Shopping tips:

- Swarovski Innsbruck Kristallwelten Store, Herzog-Friedrich-Straße 39, in the historic old town and in the immediate neighborhood of the Golden Roof, the store is in one of the oldest and most beautiful buildings in Innsbruck's old town.
- Kaufhaus Tyrol, Maria Theresienstraße: shopping mall, in 2011 named one of Europe's best and most beautiful shopping malls.
- RathausGalerien, Maria Theresienstraße: the Town Hall Galleries complex combines a very wide range of functions such as city administration and policy, shopping Centre, catering and hotel industry. Glass-covered shopping arcades!

Sights and culture:

- Triumphal Arch: Empress Maria-Theresia ordered the construction of the Arch to mark the wedding of her son and a Spanish Princess in 1765
- Wilten Basilica (nearby to the Pädagogische Hochschule!) is regarded as the most beautiful Rococo church in the country.
- Tirol Panorama: the museum houses the Giant panoramic painting which shows the Tyrolean freedom struggle of 1809, opened from Wednesday to Monday 09:00 to 17:00

In the Centre:

- Golden Roof: Emperor Maximilian, I had the Golden Roof built in 1500 as an alcove balcony from where he could enjoy a magnificent view of the square outside.
- Cathedral of St.James: the present building dates from 1717-1724 and is one of the most important Baroque churches in Tyrol. The most important work of art is the famous painting „Maria Hilf“ by Lucas Cranach the Elder.
- Imperial Palace: Maria Theresia had the late medieval castle rebuilt in the mid-18th century. For Empress Elisabeth, popularly known as Sisi, the imperial apartments were furnished in Rococo Style.
- Court Church, opened daily from 09:00 to 17:00, entrance through the „Volkskundemuseum“: during his lifetime Emperor Maximilian I commissioned the casting of larger-than-life statues to decorate his tomb. In fact, 28 bronze statues were completed. The Court Church was not built until 40 years after the emperor's death. It is regarded as one of the most important German imperial tombs.
- Tiroler Volkskundemuseum, Universitätsstraße 2, open daily from 09:00 to 17:00
Among other things, this museum provides an insight into the art of nativity scene making from the 18th century to the present day
